WHY WE DO THIS

The exercise

This is the practical, hands-on part of our interview process. We want to see how you open a new enterprise relationship. We do not expect you to be a fileAI product expert. Bring your own judgment.

THE PANEL WILL EVALUATE

- Customer empathy: Do you demonstrate understanding of the client's world?
- Discovery & strategy: How do you approach a first meeting, set expectations, and uncover what matters?
- Objection handling: How do you listen and respond when challenged?
- Delivery: Do you leave with a clear outcome and next step?

THE SCENARIO

Your role

You are an Account Executive at fileAI. Today is your first meeting with PLRE, a regional P&C insurer. fileAI's platform – fileForge – turns complex, unstructured documents into structured, validated data with full decision traceability, enabling AI agents to act inside enterprise operations. It has processed over 1 billion files across industries across insurance, finance, and healthcare.

Your goal is to introduce fileAI's vision in a way that is relevant to PLRE's world, conduct meaningful discovery, and align on a timeline and next steps. Leave the room with a clear commitment.

CLIENT DETAILS

About PLRE

PLRE is a regional insurer operating across Southeast Asia, handling claims across motor, property, and health lines. They are in early-stage evaluation of AI solutions for their claims operation. Their primary open question is not about functionality — it is about trust: how they can be confident an AI system is making the right call, and how they explain decisions to policyholders and regulators.

PLRE has not committed to any vendor. They are speaking to multiple providers.

WHAT YOU NEED TO ACHIEVE

Objectives

- 01 Introduce fileAI's vision in the context of insurance claims – not as a generic AI pitch.
- 02 Run meaningful discovery – understand the client's process, where trust breaks down, and what success looks like to each stakeholder.
- 03 Acknowledge the buying reality. Probe for the broader decision chain, and leave with a committed next step that can be a technical session, pilot scope, or evaluation timeline.
- 04 Establish credibility – both you and fileAI should be trustworthy and expert in front of this client by the end of the meeting.

HOW YOU'LL BE EVALUATED

Assessment dimensions

STRATEGY	How does the candidate approach a first meeting? Do they balance vision-setting with discovery, and set realistic expectations for what comes next?
OBJECTION HANDLING	When challenged, does the candidate listen, show consideration, and respond thoughtfully – even without all the answers?
DELIVERY	Is there a clear outcome at the end of the meeting? Does the room trust that this person will follow through?

PREPARATION GUIDANCE

Invest the time you need — we suggest no more than a couple of hours. Prepare a short presentation to guide the conversation; 5 slides is plenty. Feel free to research fileAI and the insurance claims space independently. We're looking at the quality of your thinking, not the volume of your slides.
