Re: Enterprise Account Executive – Acquisition (Singapore)

Dear Hiring Team,

I'm writing to apply for the Enterprise Account Executive – Acquisition role on Snowflake's Singapore team. I bring 20+ years of enterprise sales experience selling complex data, AI, and integration platforms across APAC, and — unusually for this candidate pool — direct, hands-on experience selling and building on Snowflake itself.

At Workato, I worked with my team to build a data semantic layer over our operational data on Snowflake and integrated MCP tooling into customer POCs and paid trials across the region, demonstrating how LLMs can reason over the semantic layer and generate real-time reports from natural-language prompts. That work spanned Snowflake, Databricks, and Microsoft Data Fabric environments, giving me technical credibility in discovery conversations with architects and data teams — not just the ability to sell the value proposition, but to speak the same language as the buyer's technical stakeholders from day one.

New-logo acquisition and new-market penetration are where I've built my track record. At DigitalRoute, I opened new markets in Greater China, India, and ANZ, and won major new-logo deals with Jio Reliance and China Mobile. At ARM, I covered Greater China and Southeast Asia — Indonesia, Thailand, Malaysia, and Singapore — during a period of high IoT and device adoption. Most recently at Workato, I achieved 125% of annual quota, generating $1.5M ARR, and at VISEO I achieved 200–400% of annual quota across three consecutive years, including a $5.6M lighthouse deal and a $3.5M expansion. These results came from disciplined territory planning and consultative selling (MEDDPICC, Challenger Sale) in regulated, long-cycle enterprise environments — exactly the kind of complex, multi-stakeholder sales cycle this role requires.

I'd welcome the opportunity to bring this combination of regional new-logo experience, technical fluency in the modern data stack, and consistent quota over-performance to Snowflake's Singapore acquisition team. Thank you for your consideration — I look forward to discussing how I can contribute to your team's growth.

Sincerely,

Lee Gee Sin
